

09/ 733/38

ABSTRACT

- A method for selling contingent information includes receiving an offer for the information with at least one contingency, providing the information in response to the offer, and then receiving a contingent payment if at least one
- 5 condition for the contingency is satisfied after the information has been provided.

09733138 120800